Hehe, for the warrior fans you must recognize the description. The story is similar to how Firestar became leader. I decided just to use that kittypet into warrior thing. The characters here are all my own names and personalities, if the names are same/similar to any other Fan-Fiction writers its a coincidence I DID NOT copy. Hope you enjoy it!
I'm almost done this book!!!! 2 more chapters!!!
If you want a book two on this book just comment away!

Chapter 1

Icy padded back to his twoleg nest after a walk through the trees. The housefolk yowled something and gave me food to eat.

The next day Icy was padding in the forest until he heard a voice growl, "What do you think you are doing on ThunderClan territory kittypet?" "I-I-I was ju-just walking" I meowed, hoping he hadn't heard the fear in my voice.

"This is ThunderClan territory, get off or I will claw your ears off" The strange cat growled. " TigerTail, that's enough"a stern mew said. I looked where the mew came from and saw a black tom emerge from the bushes. "RavenWhisker, he is a trespasser" "lets go" meowed RavenWhisker. I ran back to my housefolk as quick as my paws could carry me.

I jumped into my soft blanket, curled myself into a ball and fell asleep.I awoke when my housefolk poured some food into my tray. I gulped it down eagerly. The housefolk yowled something and went outside. I padded out after the housefolk had gone. "Hi Icy!" a cat meowed behind me. "Oh, Hi Tom!" Tom was the only cat I ever knew since I came here. "Where are you going?" Tom asked. "The forest" I replied as I walked away."Bye Tom" I meowed waving my tail.

"The forest is dangerous" meowed Tom "yeah yeah whatever" "don't say I didn't warn you!" Tom called.

I was walking on the soft forest floor when I smelled a mouse. Mouse! I thought happily. I followed the scent to the bottom of a tree. I got into my stalking position and moved slowly towards the mouse. I was about to pounce when a cat pounced on me! He tumbled onto me and started scratching my ears. I fought back, but with no luck in defeating him. We fought until sun-down. I jumped onto my paws and pounced straight at him with my claws unsheathed I scratched his face until he finally stopped fighting.

"Hi my name is MudPaw" the cat meowed. "My name is Icy" I said suspiciously.

"A kittypet right?" He mewed. "What's a kittypet?" I heard that word twice what does it mean? "Oh you know cats that live with twolegs" He answered. "What's a twoleg?" "You kittypets don't know anything, twolegs are they creatures that live with you" He meowed. "Oh I call them housefolk" "housefolk? What a weird name"

"Hey MudPaw" "yeah?" "Where do you live?"I asked. "I live in the forest" "All by yourself?!" I asked. "No, no I live with ThunderClan" "What's ThunderClan?" I asked, puzzled."Surely you've heard of the 4 clans that live in the forest."

I shook my head. "You're kidding" I shook my head harder.

"I smell cats from my clan---Oh no! LightningStar is with them and they are heading this way!" I sniffed the air but didn't smell any cats. "Are you sure that cats are coming?" "Yes! Now run!!!" "What? I'm telling you I don't smell any ca-" "MudPaw? What are you doing so far from camp?"a voice mewed. Uh oh! That must be LightningStar! "We are in trouble now!" Whispered MudPaw.

"The orange tom is LightningStar my leader, the other black tom is RavenWhisker, the clan deputy." "So it's you again"meowed RavenWhisker. "You know Rav--" "Quiet!" Growled a cat behind RavenWhisker. "That's RedTooth RavenWhisker's best friend" MudPaw whispered even quieter. "Who is that cat next to you MudPaw?" LightningStar asked. "H-he is I-I-Icy a kit-kitty-p-pet"

"I see. Icy that was a good stalking position" "Re-really?" "How would you want to join our clan?" "Wha-What?" "LightingStar, he is a kittypet!" RavenWhisker hissed. "RavenWhisker we need more apprentices and we won't be expecting VoleFoot's litter in 2 moons"LightningStar growled. I could tell RavenWhisker was clearly irritated but he didn't argue. "Can I think about it LightningStar?"I asked. "I will give you until sundown and we will meet here"LightningStar answered.

I ran back into my nest and wondered Will I sleep here next sun- down?

I woke up and ate the food the housefolk gave me, lapped at some water and went in my garden. "Hey Icy!" "Huh?" I turned around and saw Tom. "Oh hi Tom. The forest cats asked me to join them, I deci-" "Don't go Icy you won't last there for a day" He mewed. "As I was saying I deci-" "Seriously Icy I wouldn't trust them they seem a bit wild" "As I was saying I decided to j-" "Don't tell me you are going to join them!" "As I was saying I decided to join them" I growled

Tom looked at with a horrified face.

I waited in the clearing for LightningStar to show up. After the sun disappeared I saw LightningStar emerge from the trees,"Have you made your decision?" "Yes LightningStar I will be a part of ThunderClan" "Icy, in order to be a warrior you must take off the collar" "O-Ok" I struggled to tear the collar off but nothing worked. "Here let me help" LightningStar mewed. He unsheathed his claws and clawed the collar. After two claws the collar fell off my neck.

LightningStar walked back into the forest waving his tail indicating I should follow him. After we reached another clearing, LightningStar yowled,"Let all cats old enough to catch their own prey gather here beneath HighRock!"

"We are getting a new apprentice"yowled LightningStar. Quiet murmurs started through the camp. OakFeather padded over to me. "He is a kittypet!" Growled OakFeather. LightningStar's tail shoot up in the air and OakFeather became quiet almost immediately. "

His hunting skills are just as good a apprentice."LightningStar mewed.

"His collar has been ripped off and he is free from the clutches of the nasty twolegs"

"Icy, before you earn your warrior name you shall be called SnowPaw"

"OakFeather, you have been a loyal warrior and I trust you to pass down your skills to SnowPaw as his mentor" OakFeather looked at me with a short glare and replied, "I'll do my best LightningStar"

Note

IM FINNALY DONE CHAPTER 1!!! I was out of ideas... Anyways! Share to get 1k views for a part 2 of this book!!! Out of cat names tho... I'll think of more ,in the meantime READ THE SPOOOIOOFFFFFFSSS!!!!! Ill be working on chapter 2

Chapter 2

"The apprentices den is by the fallen tree" said LightningStar. I padded over to the fallen tree and looked inside. There was 3 nests made out of leaves and moss. Am I sleeping here this sun-down?

It looks cosy enough.

I walked in and heard a hiss, "what's a kittypet doing in the apprentices den?" " CinderPaw that's out new apprentice,SnowPaw" A voice mewed. I looked behind me and saw OakFeather. "He smells of twoleg!" Growled CinderPaw. " MudPaw?"OakFeather mewed. "Hi OakFeather!" Meowed MudPaw as he jumped in the apprentices den. "Show SnowPaw how to make his own nest" "Sure thing OakFeather!" MudPaw led me to a empty space in the den. He carried some fresh moss over and plopped it down in the corner. "All you need to do now is to collect some leaves" mewed MudClaw. I did as I was told and settled in my nest. It wasn't as soft as my housefolk's blankets but it'll do.

I woke up at early sun-rise when OakFeather meowed, "Come on SnowPaw! Are you going to sleep until Leaf-Bare? RavenWhisker wants us on dawn patrol" "ok ok I'm coming" I mewed, still sounding sleepy. "The scent markers are how we divide the territory" OakFeather explained. We padded to a stream and OakFeather told me to put down a scent marker there. After the patrol finished. We came back to camp. "I'm hungry" I complained. "When can we eat?"

"After hunting patrol comes back" a cat meowed behind me. I turned and saw MudPaw. "Hi MudPaw! I went on dawn-patrol with OakFeather" I meowed excitedly." It does feel nice to know you are setting a border for the while clan" MudPaw agreed. As we waited next to the fresh kill pile, I learned some things about the clans. "We are back!" yowled a cat. "That's BrambleCloud" MudPaw whispered. I picked a mouse from the pile and bit down. "Mmm!" I meowed." It's better than the food my housefo- I mean twolegs gave me!"

"Hey, when can I go on hunting patrol?" I questioned. "When you learned how to hunt" "Oh yeah right I knew that..."

"Come on it's our training session time." "Ok I'm coming."

We learned the basic strike and how to attack ShadowClan, use their force against them. "Ok, now turn so the attacking cat will slide right past you and fall and you can deliver the strike" OakFeather explained. "O-ok" I still haven't gotten hang of the attack and I'm covered in bruises.

"Oh OakFeather!" A cat mewed in concern. "DapplePelt?!" OakFeather sounded surprised. "Look at him! Covered in bruises. I'll have to stop training and take him to heal!" Without waiting for a answer, she hurried off and I followed her.

After she finished treating me TigerTail yowled a warning, "Help! Help! Badgers are attacking camp!"

So? How'd you like it? I'm making Chapter 3 soon! The chapters here are 2-3 pages long. Don't forgot to vote, comment and follow!

Chapter 3

I got into my attacking position but my body hurt all over and I crumbled to the ground. "Careful there SnowPaw! I know it's your first battle but you have to take it easy, your wound hasn't healed yet." DapplePelt meowed with concern.

"Ok I'll stay in the den.' I agreed as a settled in the moss nest. I could hear cats yowling in pain and badgers getting closer to camp. DapplePelt is still sitting next to the only hole in the den. I thought. I can only sit here and watch my clanmates suffer. I got up slowly and peeked at DapplePelt. Good she's asleep.

I quietly padded outside only to be greeted by LeafBreeze's body getting thrown across the camp. "Go-o Sn-owpaw." She groaned, and her eyes went lifeless. Oh no! I have to help my clanmates. I thought with determination.

I charged into battle clawing at a badgers eyes. The badger clawed me too but I didn't feel it. I kept on clawing at him with rage and fury until his body went limp, and lifeless. "SnowPaw!" I voice behind me growled. I turned and saw OakFeather. "What do you think you're doing?" He asked. "Helping the clan" I answered.

"More like killing!" He growled."A warrior does not kill to win a fight" "Take it easy OakFeather" LightningStar meowed as he appeared through bushes. "Remember he is a new recruit to ThunderClan, and hasn't learned the ways of the Clans." LightningStar said calmly.

"Yes LightningStar I w-" OakFeather's sentence was interrupted by a wail from the centre of the camp. "LeafBreeze!" SwiftClaw cried. "How could you leave me?" LightningStar trotted over to us and meowed, "LeafBreeze was a worthy warrior and she dies protecting her clan. She shall be missed. We will sit vigil for her"

He went over to the leaders den and disappeared. "C'mon SnowPaw!" MudPaw meowed. "Since we don't have any training, let's go hunt." "Ok." I replied happily.

We managed to catch two squirrels and a vole. We dropped our catch in the fresh-kill pile and delivered the fresh-kill to the elders. After the queens ate too, we both picked a mouse from the pile. "I still can't believe how good fresh-kill is." MudPaw mumbled something through a full mouth.

That night SwiftClaw, which I learned was LeafBreeze's kin, and BirchWing, LeafBreeze's mother, sat vigil all night bawling their eyes out. TinyKit and HoneyKit peeked through the little hole from the nursery but got shushed by VoleFoot.

The next morning, SwiftClaw and BirchWing carried LeafBreeze to be buried when they came back, they went out to hunting patrol.

"That's perfect SnowPaw!" OakFeather praised. I turned my body while MudPaw pounced at me. This caused MudPaw to slide right past me. "This is a useful technique" OakFeather explained. "When you're in a pinch use this move and dodge your opponent's attack"

I practiced the move some more and eventually got tired. OakFeather let me choose fresh-kill. I picked a sparrow and bit it. "Mmm!" I exclaimed out loud. "This is really good!" "Of course I just caught it!" MudPaw beamed. "Can you teach me how to climb trees?" I asked. 'I would but I can't, only mentors can teach that" He explained. "Oh" I replied.

Chapter 4

"What are we doing for training today?" I asked OakFeather. "Climbing trees." He answered. "Yes!" I shouted.

We leaped onto a rock and into the training area. "First put one paw in front of another and slowly move forward" OakFeather explained. I did as I was told and I made it half way up the tree, then I fell.

"AHHH!" I shouted as a fell. "What's going on?" DapplePelt said while she dashed out of her den. "Oww.." "Your other bruise just healed!" "I know." I replied. "You should be more careful! While climbing a tree you should..." "Typical DapplePelt." I heard OakFeather mutter.

"What was that?!" DapplePelt said. Looks like she heared! "Um-uhma-uh. Nothing?" "Hmmmph." DapplePelt answered. "Come on lets go SnowPaw." "Ok." I replied. DapplePelt chewed up some weird looking leaves and was about to rub it on my paw.

"What's that?" I asked. "It's Comfrey, it's used to treat wounds and make it feel better" She answered. She rubbed the chewed up leaves on my paw. I crawled up from the nest and was about to head out when- "You should get some rest before you start training again." DapplePelt mewed. "Ok." I answered, disappointed.

I picked a vole from the fresh-kill pile and settled down to eat. I finished half of it and gave the other half to MudPaw, who wasn't full after a mouse. "Fanks Chnoawphaw." MudPaw mumbled through a full mouth. "Huh?" I asked, clearly confused.

He gulped down the last of the vole and tried again, "Thanks SnowPaw." "Come on let's hunt." "We've gotta tell LightningStar first." "Ok, race?" "Sure" I sprinted through camp with MudPaw on my tail. We made it in front of the Leader's Den at the same time.

"LightningStar?" I asked. "What is it SnowPaw?" LightningStar meowed. "Can we go hunting?" "Ok, but stick together."

"Will do LightningStar!" We both promised at the same time. We made our way to the forest and started hunting."Hope I catch a big, juicy mouse!" I told MudPaw. "I'll catch the biggest sparrow there is!" I spotted something moving in the tall grass and crept slowly towards it.

I sniffed the air, it was a mouse! I lowered my body and started stalking it. I made sure the mouse was still and...I delivered the finishing strike. "MudPaw! I caught a mouse!" "Let's see." He replied from beneath a bush.

He emerged with a vole between his jaws. "That will feed two elders!" He gasped. "Really?" I asked astounded. "Let's take the prey to the queens and elders." MudPaw suggested. "Ok." I replied. When we got back to camp, everyone was congratulating us.

"First catch?" OakFeather asked. "Yup!" I replied happily. "That's a big mouse alright." He praised. "We're taking the food to the queens and elders." "Carry on. After you're done, pick a prey from the fresh-kill pile, you deserve it." "Thanks OakFeather!"

I dropped the mouse in front of MouseClaw. "Take that to the queens." MouseClaw told me. "You can get me another prey from the pile." "Ok." I took off and got a vole and gave it to MouseClaw. "Thank you SnowPaw." I tipped my head, picked up the mouse and went to the nursery.

I dropped the prey between VoleFoot and LilyWhisker. "Mommy mommy can we have some?" The kits squeaked. "Not until another moon my dears." She replied. "Thanks for the prey SnowPaw." VoleFoot mewed. "No problem." I took off for the fresh-kill pile and chose a sparrow.

I dug in and after a few bits I finished the sparrow. "That was good!" I exclaimed. "SnowPaw, it's training time!" MudPaw called from the apprentices' den. "I'll be right there!"

Sicknesses:

Cough - A sickness that is like a human cold. Symptoms are just coughs and sneezes, though it can be dangerous to kits or young cats. The best Treatment is Tansy.

Greencough - A sickness similar to pneumonia that is often rampant among the Clans in leaf-bare. Symptoms include wheezing, coughing, pus excreted from the eyes, sneezing, fever, and green phlegm streaming from the nose. The best treatment is Catmint and Feverfew.

Whitecough - A mild sickness like a cold. More common than greencough, but can become greencough or even the fatal blackcough. Symptoms include sneezing, coughing, white phlegm streaming from the nose, and a slightly high temperature. The best treatment is Catmint.

Blackcough A fatal sickness that spells certain death for any cat who catches it. Symptoms are intense chest pain, weezing, and coughing. It is a rare sickness for the cats, and the best treatment is Catmint.

Chill - A very mild ailment usually caused by very cold weather or falling into icy water. Much like whitecough, but with cold chills instead of fever. The best treatment would be Catmint, feverfew, and lavender.

Cracked pads - A painful ailment usually seen in elderly cats. The paw pads crack from cold or dryness, and if untreated can lead to infection. Symptoms include swelling of the paws and pain. The best treatment is Marigold, Dock, and poppy seed if there is pain.

Aching Joints Basically arthritis in cats. Caused by age or damp weather. Symptoms include pain and stiffness. The best treatment is anything that cures pain other than poppy seeds.

Bleeding - Blood loss due to injury, such as a wound sustained in battle. Severity depends on injury. The best treatment is cobwebs pressed onto the wound.

Poisoning - The case of eating deathberries, poisoned fresh-kill, or a snakebite. The best treatment is yarrow, stinging nettle, and in the case of getting bite by a snake Snake root.

Poisons to cats:

Apple seeds - The seeds are mildly poisonous, containing amygdalin.

Chocolate - Contains theobromine at levels toxic to cats and dogs.

Deathberries - Deathberries are an extremely poisonous species of red berries, and are known to Twolegs as yew berries.

Holly Berries - Holly berries, while not as dangerous as deathberries, are still a danger to kits.

Foxglove seeds - Foxglove seeds are known to be a dangerous medicine. While they can help the heart, they can easily cause paralysis and heart failure. Can be mistaken for poppy seeds.

Nightshade - Twenty berries consumed can kill you, cause memory loss, or incabability of learning. Used to kill a cat who cannot be saved quickly, it is poisonous.

White snakeroot - All parts are poisonous, causing nausea and vomiting.

Yew - Can be used to contract poison as a medicine, or causing to vomit if consumed.

Healing Treatments and Mixtures:

Aching Joints - Ragwort leaves, Juniper berries, Goldenrod, or Daisy leaves

Bee Stings - Blackberry leaves

Broken Bones - Wrap in cobwebs, put on comfrey pulp, use poppy seeds to dull pain

Bellyache - Chervil, Watermint, or Juniper berries. Also, try a trip to the dirtplace.

Coughs (whitecough or greencough) - Use either Catmint, Honey, or Tansy, and keep the cat away from other cats.

Cuts in Eye - Trickle Celandine juice into the eye to ease the pain.

Deep Wounds Cobwebs, Marigold, or Horsetail.

Displaced Bones - Give poppy seed, wait for effect, then have cat bite stick while you give the leg a tug and hear it click into place, give them another poppy seed so they sleep.

Dull Pain - Use poppy seed, then when it takes effect preform treatment, give them another to sleep.

Hurting Throat - Honey, or water.

Nettle Stings - Dock leaf pulp, give poppy seed so it dulls the pain and helps cat sleep.

Poison - If poison is in stomach, give cat yarrow leaves so they vomit the poison, have them vomit onto dock leaves

Prevent Infection and Soothe Pain for Burns - Comfrey, honey

Poultice for aching joints - Ragwort leaves and juniper berries.

Poultice for broken bones - Stinging nettle and comfrey.

Rat Bites - A poultice of burdock root with cobwebs on top, and horsetail if it is available

Scratches - Marigold, horsetail

Shock - Thyme or Chamomile. Lick fur to comfort, give water and poppy seeds.

Stiffness - Crushed poppy seeds, marigold or comfrey.

Strengthening Herbs - Tansy, watermint, or feverfew.

Toothache - Use alder bark.

Traveling and Strengthening Herbs - Chamomile, burnet, daisy leaves or sorrel. Lambs ear and ragweed also work.

Wrenched Muscles - Comfrey, nettle and/or water therapy.

Healing Remedies without using herbs:

Gently Nip Spine or Poke with Claw - This tests to see if the backbone is broken, if they don't feel it, then it is broken.

Lick Fur - It clean wounds, brings down shock, and warms a cold cat (lick fur the wrong way).

Moss Soaked in Water - Sick or injured or weak cats can drink, and can be used to cool feverish cats. It is also helpful in kitting.

Rosemary, Mint - This is used to lighten the death-scent of a dead cat before burial. It is also respectful.

Sweeten Herbs - Use necter, honey or mouse blood.

Water Soaking - Hold swelling wound in cold water, it takes down swelling and also soothes scraped pads.

Water Therapy - Have a cat with weak or hurting muscles or bone wade in water, eventually they'll get stronger.

Wailing, Yowling - If the cat does not have a sore throat, it keeps lungs and chest clear.

Herb Care:

If herbs are wet, leave them out in the sun to dry.

Gather fresh herbs when stock gets short.

Leave enough of the herb on its plant so it can reproduce when in season.

Check herb store often, and throw out old or weak herbs.

Wrap honey in dock leaves, with rhubarb to keep fresh.

Use bark strips to finish the leaf wrap, or keep the herbs together so they can be fresh.

Medicine Cat Code:

† Medicine Cats are allowed to cross territorys.

† Medicine Cats can't have a mate,or kits.

† Medicine Cats may cross territorys to help another Clan.

† Medicine Cats must learn battle moves.

† Medicine Cats must do everything they can to help a cat or kit in need.

Hope this helped!

Chapter 5

"-put your paw in front like this-" OakFeather was teaching us how to strike under a enemy's under-belly. "So like thi-gwaAHH!" MudPaw yowled in pain. "-I slipped on a mouse-brained branch." He groaned. "Sticks don't have brains." I corrected.

"Let's get you to DapplePelt." OakFeather suggested. "Ok." "What happened to you?" SwiftClaw asked MudPaw. "Mouse-brained branch got in my way."Y'know branches don't have brains." SwiftClaw purred with amusement. "STOP TELLING ME THAT!" MudPaw complained.

We went inside DapplePelt's den and she told MudPaw to lie down. "Hmm... Let's see.. A bruise but not too bad. Here, eat some poppy seeds." She nosed 2 poppy seeds towards MudPaw and he licked it up. "MudPaw will have to put his training on hold." "Ok I'll tell BrambleCloud that." OwlFeather sighed. "Let's go hunt!" I suggested jumping up and down.

"Ok ok, calm down." He laughed. We walked near the border of ShadowClan territory and started hunting. Before I could, I smelled a yucky scent in the bush. "Ewww what is this?" I asked horrified. "What is what?" OakFeather asked as he came over. "ShadowClan scent!" He exclaimed. "Let's report this to LightningStar." We went back to camp as fast as we could. "May we speak with you?" OakFeather asked by the door of the leader's den.

"Ok I don't see why not." He answered. There was a long pause and I could hear the kits playing around. "Well? What are you going to say?" "Oh um you see SnowPaw w-" OakFeather started explaining.

"-and then we smelled ShadowClan scent in our territory." OakFeather finished. "What?!" LightningStar was furious. "I'm having a word with CrowStar." LigtningStar hurried off to ShadowClan. He came back seconds later. "DapplePelt told me to get 2 warriors. "Can I come?" I asked. "If it's okay with OakFeather."

"I'm coming too right?" OakFeather questioned. "You both can come, let's hurry."

We went on ShadowClan border and waited for a patrol. "ThunderClan?!" A voice hissed. "That's RockPool, the ShadowClan deputy." OakFeather whispered. "We wish to speak with CrowStar." "You can tell me." "It's only for CrowStar to hear."

He thought for a while and replied, "Ok follow me."

We walked deep into ShadowClan where we reached their camp. "It's so.... Weird!" I whispered. "Greetings CrowStar." LightningStar politely meowed. "Hello LightningStar." A black cat emerged from a den. "What brings you here?" CrowStar asked.

"We found ShadowClan scent on our side of the border."

Phew I'm done! Since school started I haven't gotten much time to write. So my updates will be even slower than usual. About 2-3 updates a week? (For different books) anyways VOTE COMMENT AND FOLLOW!

Chapter 6

"What?!" CrowStar yowled in anger. "None of my warriors have been on your side of the border." She hissed. "We remember what we smelled." LightningStar argued, quite politely. "Your memory is a bit off then." CrowStar retorted.

"Go back to your own clan!" A cat yowled in the crowd. "Yeah yeah go back to your mouse-hole!" The ShadowClan cats started chanting for us to get off. "We will meet again CrowStar." LightningStar dipped his head and trotted away. "ShadowClan are not friendly are they?" I asked. "You think?" OakFeather joked.

We got back to camp and I was tackled with questions, literally! MudPaw pounced like a kit while asking excitedly, "What was CrowStar like? Was she nice? How did she react when you told her about ShadowClan scents?" "I'll tell you later, I have to eat I'm tired of that long journey." I grabbed a mouse and started biting in. I finished in a few bites and took a small vole. "Ohh man.. I'm stuffed!"

"Now can you tell me?" MudPaw asked. "Yeah sure." After I finished explaining it was almost night. "I'm tired I'm going to rest." I yawned. I settled into my nest, closed my eyes.

"RavenWhisker wants you for dawn patrol, SnowPaw." "Ok I'm coming." I replied sleepily. I went to find RavenWhisker after I groomed myself. "Coming SnowPaw?" RavenWhisker asked. "Yup." I replied. "Can we go hunting on the way?" "That's for the hunting patrol to take care of, beside our fresh-kill pile is still high." "Ok." I answered.

We set some markers along ShadowClan and WindClan border. When we got back, OakFeather told me it was training time. "Your warrior assessment is coming soon, better start training hard!" BrambleCloud told MudPaw. "Your's to SnowPaw." He added. "You hear that SnowPaw? We're going to be warriors!" "CinderPaw will become a warrior same time as you." OakFeather added.

"Awww." We protested. We walked to the centre of the camp and I felt a claw pierce my tail.

"GAH!" I yowled in surprise. Then I saw TinyKit grinning happily. "Did you attack my tail?" I asked sternly. "Yup! And I caught it!" I started jumping around camp. "TinyKit!" A cat mewed in the distance. "Oh hi mom!" "You shouldn't be out here!" LilyWhisker scolded. "Yes mom." He replied sadly.

"Hope he wasn't causing any trouble." LilyWhisker mewed. "Naw, he was good." I answered sarcastically. She seemed to wrapped up in licking TinyKit's fur , as clean as possible, and didn't seem to notice my sarcasm.

Hoped you liked it! Just a FYI the storyline of this story, only this story, is based from book one of warriors. Book 2 will be different. don't forget to.... FOLLOW VOTE COMMENT AND FOLLOW ONCE MORE! (When you follow, you become awesome.)

Chapter 7

Snowpaw stalked a robin on a tree, he quietly climbed the trunk and onto the branch. He crept closer and pounced. "Mef!!!" He muffled. "Great catch Snowpaw." OakFeather praised, as he jumped down from a tall tree. "Come on, let's take the prey you've caught back to camp."

"Sure! I'll go and dig them up right away!" Snowpaw dashed through the forest and into a clearing, and dug up 2 voles and the robin he had caught earlier.

Back at camp, Snowpaw dropped the prey in the fresh-kill pile. When LightningStar called a clan meeting.

"This is it Snowpaw!" MudPaw excitedly mewed. "Our warriors ceremony!!!" SnowPaw looked like he was about to burst with excitement.

"MudPaw, come here." Lightningstar mewed. MudPaw hopped on the Rock and sat.

"I, Lightningstar, leader of Thunderclan, call upon my warrior ancestors to look down on this apprentice. He has trained hard to understand the ways of your noble code, and I commend him to you as a warrior in his turn.
MudPaw, do you promise to uphold the warrior code and to protect and defend your Clan, even at the cost of your life?"
"I do"
"Then by the powers of StarClan, I give you your warrior name. MudPaw from this moment you will be known as MudClaw StarClan honors your courage and we welcome you as a full warrior of Thunderclan."

"MudClaw!" "MudClaw!" "MudClaw!"

MudClaw glowed with happiness as Lightningstar rested his muzzle on Mudclaw's head.

"Snowpaw, come here" Snowpaw hopped on the ledge and sat.

"I call upon my warrior ancestors to look down at this apprentice. He has trained hard to understand your noble code. Snowpaw, do you promise to uphold the warrior code and to protect the clan, even at the cost of your life?"

"I do"

"Then by the powers of Starclan, I give you your warrior name. Snowpaw, from this moment on you will be known as Snowfoot."

"Snowfoot!" "Snowfoot!" Snowfoot!"

Snowfoot trembled with nervousness as the other cats called his name.

I'm a warrior!

YIPPEEEEEE!!!!!! I'm Finnaly done chapter seven!!!! Every book will have 9-10 chapters so this book will be ending soon. Comment if you want a book 2 or even a series!!!!

Chapter 8

"CinderPaw come here."

I call upon my warrior ancestors to look down at this apprentice. SHe has trained hard to understand your noble code. CinderPaw, do you promise to uphold the warrior code and to protect the clan, even at the cost of your life?"

"I do"

"Then by the powers of Starclan, I give you your warrior name. CinderPaw, from this moment on you will be known as CinderPool."
"CinderPool!" "CinderPool!" "CinderPool!"
Yes! I finally am a warrior!

Do we have to?" MudClaw whined. "Yes, every warrior has to sit vigil on the night their ceremony was held." BrambleCloud explained. "Fine..." MudClaw went over to SnowFoot and CinderPool and said, "No use.." "That's okay, come on let's eat something." "Ok."

"Sitting vigil is SO boring!" MudClaw complained. "Be quiet!" SnowFoot whispered. "I'm tired" MudClaw yawned. "You have to wait till tomorrow." SnowFoot said. "My legs have a cramp!" "Stop complaining and be quiet!"
"Can you please stop mewing like newborn kits?" CinderPool said. "That's MudClaw!" "Is not!" "Please! Be quiet for Starclan's sake!" "Ok...."

"That feels better!" SnowFoot, MudClaw and CinderPool said in unison. After a long night of sitting, they finally got to stretch. "So we get to sleep in the warrior's den tonight!!!" MudClaw shouted! "Yes that's right" OakFeather said. SnowFoot and MudClaw walked over to the fresh kill pile and started eating. "Aren't you hungry?" They said to CinderPool. "Not much, you guys eat, I'll get some rest." Then, she walked in the warrior's den.

Right after SnowFoot grabbed a mouse, SwiftClaw and his patrol party came rushing through camp and into the leaders den.

"ShadowClan cats were hunting in our territory." BirchWing looked as if she ran around the entire forest. LightningStar looked up at her, "Who were they?" "Rockpool, Whitebreeze, and CrowGorse."

"We need to tell the clan..." Then he went up the HighRock and gathered a clan meeting. SnowFoot finished his mouse and rushed over.

"Whats this about?" "Is something wrong?" The entire clan was murmuring and guessing what happened.

"Shadowclan cats have been seen on our territory." Lightningstar yowled.

The entire clan gasped. "I'll need a party of warriors, RavenWhisker, SnowFoot, MudClaw, CinderPool, and OakFeather go and see if they're still there."

The party sprinted to the border of ShadowClan and saw the cats. "What are you doing on your territory?" RavenWhisker asked. "We need prey, food in our territory has gone scarce." CrowGorse hissed. "That doesn't give you the right to enter our territory."

"What if we starve?" RockPool hissed angrily. "Then that's your problem." RavenWhisker retorted.

Then the ShadowClan cats attacked.

Nice cliffhanger right? No? Aww.... Anyways this book ends but if you want more just comment for book two!

Hey

Holy.... So many mistakes in this story.... I wrote this 4 years ago. I feel like starting a new story but with the same characters. Anyone up for that?
